

What we do

- Organic gardening promotion
- Raise public awareness of organic issues
- Garden organically (via our community allotment and urban gardening course)
- Arrange regular meetings and events
- Network
- Inform
- Collaborate with other groups

Phoenix Urban Gardening Course - Grow, Learn & Share

Teaching carried out by qualified PGCE teacher and RHS trained expert Ruth Urbanowicz covering all areas of organic gardening from sowing & growing to soil care and pest & disease control.

Usually third Saturday of each month 2-4 pm, come rain or shine! (We can be indoors)

Take home seedlings & produce and donate excess to the Phoenix community fridge.

Volunteer at the BHOGG Weald Community Allotment

A troop of volunteers of all ages meet on our organic community allotment on the Weald allotment site Sundays from March – October (11am – 1pm weather permitting). We garden together and share our knowledge. You will be equally welcome if you are new to gardening or an experienced grower. Regular volunteers are rewarded with a share of whatever produce is available. Come and visit, we are a friendly bunch and there is often cake too!

Printed on 100% recycled paper with vegetable based inks.
